Corps convened at the armory and decided to turn out in the distinctive bearskin shakos and white coats, so familiar to Washingtonians in the past. The Dramatic Order of the Knights of Khorassan also met and determined to take part in the civic parade. Working for Jabilee Success. Among the men who have given most valuable assistance in assuring the success of the jubilee is Mr. Chapin Brown. He was, like others who are now zealous in behalf of the celebration, rather disinclined to approve the project at the beginning, but he quickly realized the earnestness and public spirit that filled so many of his fellow citizens, and with characteristic desire to further anything that promised to be advantageous to Washington he entered with energy into the preliminaries, and has been ardently active ever since. His long experience and his capable judgment have experience and his capable judgment have been sterling benefits to his colleagues, and his advice has been a potent factor in the settlement of many problems that seemed difficult when first considered. Mr. Brown is so well and favorably known in the District that his career is familiar to all, and the esteem in which he is held is as wide as his acquaintance is extended and influential.

Another steady worker in behalf of jubilee success is Major L. P. Williams, who is the representative on the executive committee of Lincoin Post No. 3, G. A. R., and also a member of the committee on accommodations. The committees on law and order, salutes and chimes and historical pageant will meet at headquarters, 1114 F street, at 8 o'clock tonight. Col. Henry May has chosen as his assistants on the committee to select the prizes to be awarded to the most artistic exhibits in the floral parade Messrs. Robert Hinckley and J. Henry Small.

The tickets for the jubilee revelries will be placed on sale tomorrow Numerous ladies and gentlemen who will impersonate characters in the historical pageant assembled last night at the Hotel Fredonia and various assignments were made and a pleasant interchange of views

The chorus which will participate in the concert at Convention Hall the night of May 26, following the jubilee, had a re-hearsal last night at Carroll Institute Hall. Mr. William Waldecker was the conductor and Mr. Harry Wheaton Howard the planist. About 300 vocalists were present. Chairman Frank T. Howe and Vice Chairman Percy S. Foster were present and ad-dressed the chorus. There was a rehearsal at Saengerbund Hall at 2 o'clock this afternoon and another will be held at Carroll Institute Thursday evening. Several more will be held next week.

The Jubilee Concert.

The jubilee chorus held a rehearsal last night in the Carroll Institute Hall, and when Director Waldecker waved his baton for "The Heavens Are Telling" at least 300 were present. All seemed to take great interest in their work and the selections gone over last night, which besides the one already mentioned were Chadwick's "New Hail Columbia," Tregina's national anthem and the "Hallelujah" chorus from the them and the "Hallellian" chorus from the "Messiah," were all sung with fine effect During the evening brief addresses were made by Dr. Frank T. Howe, chairman of the music committee, and Mr. Percy S. Foster, vice chairman, who congratulated the chorus upon the good work they were doing and urged that they assist in disposing of the tickets for the concert.

A generous response was made and a large number of tickets were given out.
This concert will be held in Convention
Hall Friday night, the 26th instant, and Hall Friday night, the 26th instant, and all the decorations that make the revelries ball attractive will be left in place. It will give those who do not attend the ball an opportunity to see the handsome decorations, and at the same time listen to an excellent choral and orchestral concert. The admission will be but one price, and there will be no reserved seats. The tickets will be on sale at Sanders & Stayman's. The orchestra will number sixty performers picked from the best musicians in the city and under the leadership of Mr. Herman Rakemann. This body of musicians had its first rehearsal at the Saengerbund Hall this afternoon.

The Porto Rican Trade.

R. R. Freeman of Boston, secretary of the Vessel Owners and Captains' National Association, has been talking with Secretary Gage and Commissioner Chamberlain of the navigation bureau regarding the Porto Rican trade. "That trade," said Mr. Freeman, "was originally limited to American vessels, but has by recent regulation been so opened that foreign vessels can bring cargoes from Porto Rico to the United States. The claim that there was not enough available American tonnage to move the sugar crop is unfounded. Many American vesse's have been obliged to leave the island without cargoes."

Mostly About Needs for the Peace Jubilee.

We continually strive to maintain thoroughly complete stocks throughout the store. But special needs of yours excite special efforts upon our part. The influx of strangers in attendance upon the Carnival of Peace will bring forth_household discrepancies that should be supplied. For such we offer some startling prices for the best values.

Flags for Decoration.

We don't need to point out to you the economy of buying bunting flags-the fast color kind-the kind that is made to fan and flap in the wind and weather safely. Lower prices than ours mean the cheaper sort. Our prices are special-for standard goods.
